Construction
Update:

Barbara Morse Wackford Aquatic and Community Complex

The transformation of the Barbara Morse Wackford Aquatic and Community Complex site from dirt to new first-class recreational "digs" has made astounding progress since the last District Digest. The project, located at Bruceville Road and Big Horn Boulevard, remains on budget and is expected to open in the Fall of 2004.

The concrete walls for the new gymnasium and the steel beam skeleton for the other areas of the main building have begun to reveal the complex's future shape. To continue progress over the winter months, crews laid the asphalt parking lot and performed a variety of other tasks to weather proof the site.

On a related note, recreation staff have begun to develop programming and rental guidelines for the many class and meeting rooms that will be present on the site. Classic room names like the Valley Oak Ballroom, Poppy Room, Willow Room, and Blue Heron give a glimpse into the elegant atmosphere intended upon the complex's completion. ■
